

Place Matters

Everything happens somewhere

“If we can understand more about the nature of “place” where things happen, and the impact on the people and assets on that location, we can plan better, manage risk better, and use our resources better.”

Location Strategy for United Kingdom, 2008

“Heading toward spatial enabled society”