SUMMARY

This session includes presentations on each of the sections of the main Commission 2 report "Enhancing Surveying Education through Effective Blended Learning". This presentation is on the fourth chapter and focuses on Blended Learning technology and infrastructure. It is informed by the lessons learned from the pandemic response (see other presentations in this session) and FIG papers and presentations since the pandemic began. The discussion is also informed by case studies from several surveying education institutions and covers formal learning management systems as well as informal learning opportunities.
